Apache Leads: We Call Your Leads

Please Read ALL This Page

Please feel free to use this script for your own personal use and to share with your friends. This script has been battle proven in the field. When you read it, you may be a little shocked by how short it is. Please trust us, this has proven to get more than double positive results than the next best script.

Remember, this is a proven script which gets very good results.

The point of this call is to find the people who really wants to speak with you right now.

It is not to give them an overview of your opportunity. It is not to tell them how much it costs and how great it is. It is not to tell them of the wondrous healing powers; it is only to find out who wishes to speak with you right now about a business opportunity.

If you like our proven script, then your work is done, simply email us back telling us you like our script, we will do the rest.

If you wish to use your own script, that's fine too, just attach it to the email we sent you and hit reply. Remember the purpose of this call though please.

Hi, may I speak to (Leads Name)?

Hi (leads name) this is (first name), how are you today?

I'm glad I could reach you!

You recently completed a short interview on the phone / a short survey form (select which is correct) with one of our associates.

In that phone interview / survey form you requested additional information about working from home, right?

If No: Politely end the call

If prospect tells us "YES" , then the following script:

Great, our professional home business consultant (Your Name) will give you a quick call in the next 24 hours.

Which is best for you, morning, afternoon or evening?

Ok, (whichever time was good, e.g. evening) Evening it is.

Thanks very much for your time and interest, (Your Name) will be in touch.
Cheers / goodbye / etc
